Information on personal data processing in Non-Banking Client Information Register

Pursuant to Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (hereinafter referred to as the "GDPR"), Non-Banking Credit Bureau, an association of legal entities, ID No. 42 053 404, with its registered office at Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09 Bratislava (hereinafter referred to as "NBCB"), as the operator of the Non-Banking Client Information Register (Nebankový register klientských informácií), provides you as a data subject by means of this document, in a concise, transparent and comprehensible form, with all relevant information related to the processing of your personal data in the Non-Banking Client Information Register and the exercise of your rights under the GDPR.

A. General information related to your personal data processing

The Non-Banking Client Information Register – Consent Register (the "NBCIR") is a database, or a filing system under the GDPR, created for the purposes set out in this document. NBCB processes your personal data in the NBCIR based on your consent to the processing of personal data.

Pursuant to Act No. 129/2010 Coll. on consumer credits and on other credits and loans for consumers (hereinafter referred to as the "Consumer Credit Act"), the Non-Banking Client Information Register – Consumer Credit Register is a register under Section 7(3) of the Consumer Credit Act and also a register under Section 8(20) of Act No. 90/2016 Coll. on housing loans (hereinafter referred to as the "Housing Loans Act") to the extent under Section 7(9) of the Consumer Credit Act (hereinafter referred to as the "Register"). When granting a consumer credit under the Consumer Credit Act, banking institutions and creditors (hereinafter referred to as the "Creditors") are obliged, pursuant to the Consumer Credit Act and the Housing Loans Act, to provide your personal data to and retrieve your personal data from the Register without your consent.

The categories of personal data processed about you in the NBCIR are the data to the extent provided in the application and, in the event of entering into a contract based on the application, the data to the extent provided in the contract, and the purpose of their processing is the disclosure of personal data to third parties in order to share information between third parties about the creditworthiness, credibility and payment discipline of their clients (you), protection of legitimate economic interests of the Creditors and prevention against credit frauds.

The categories of personal data processed about you in the Register are stipulated in the Consumer Credit Act and the Housing Loans Act. The purpose of personal data processing in the Register is the granting of consumer loans and the assessment of the consumer's ability to repay a consumer credit, as specified by the Consumer Credit Act and the Housing Loans Act.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data in the NBCIR is your consent given in accordance with Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR. The consent according to the previous sentence is given voluntarily and as a data subject you have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing of personal data relating to you at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of your personal data processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data in the Register is Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR (compliance with a legal obligation under the Consumer Credit Act and the Housing Loans Act).

If you, as a data subject, default on or partially stop repaying your obligations, a so-called negative information on your solvency (hereinafter referred to as "Negative Information") will be created in the NRCI). In the event that you begin to repay your obligations properly, such remediation of solvency will not affect the existence of the Negative Information.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data after the occurrence of the Negative Information is Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR. The legitimate interests for the processing of your personal data after the occurrence of the Negative Information are:

- (a) minimising the likelihood of non-repayment of the financial performance provided to you as a data subject,
- (b) minimising the likelihood of decline (loss) of assets on the part of the Creditors,
- (c) enhancing the ability of the Creditors to act with professional diligence,
- (d) a society-wide interest in the prevention of credit fraud; and
- (e) a society-wide interest in reducing the indebtedness of data subjects.

The source of your personal data in the NBCIR and the Register are third parties to whom you have provided them as a client or a prospective client.

Personal data processed about you in the NBCIR are provided to third parties published and regularly updated on www.nbcbsk.sk and can also be made available by Slovak Banking Credit Bureau, s.r.o., ID No. 35 869 810, with its registered office at Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09 Bratislava (hereinafter referred to as "SBCB") to banks and branches of foreign banks as authorized users of the Common Register of Banking Information regularly published on www.sbcbsk.sk and to other authorised entities pursuant to applicable legislation. The Common Register of Banking Information (hereinafter referred to as the "CRBI") is created pursuant Section 92a(1) of Act No. 483/2001 Coll. on banks (hereinafter referred to as the "Banking Act") as a common banking register operated by SBCB established as a joint venture of ancillary banking services pursuant to Section 92a(2) of the Banking Act.

Pursuant to Section 7(6) of the Consumer Credit Act and the applicable provisions of the Housing Loans Act, personal data processed about you in the Register may also be disclosed to banks, foreign banks and branches of foreign banks and to other Creditors and entities defined by these legal regulations. The list of Creditors, banks, foreign banks and branches of foreign banks and consumer credit data registers and their operators pursuant to the Consumer Credit Act is provided on www.nbs.sk.

The purpose of processing of your personal data when providing them to CRBI users by NBCB through SBCB and when providing them to third parties by SBCB through NBCB, is the sharing of information between third parties and authorised users about the creditworthiness, credibility and payment discipline of their clients (data subjects), protection of legitimate economic interests of the Creditors and prevention against credit frauds.

The legal basis for the disclosure of your personal data to CRBI users by NBCB through SBCB, and for their disclosure to third parties by SBCB through NBCB is your consent given in accordance with Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR. The consent according to the previous sentence is given voluntarily and as a data subject you have the right to withdraw your consent to such processing of your personal data. The withdrawal of the consent shall not affect the lawfulness of personal data processing based on the consent before its withdrawal.

The period of processing and storage of your personal data in the NBCIR, and the period of processing and storage of your personal data when disclosed to CRBI users by NBCB through SBCB, is 5 years from giving your consent, and in the event of concluding a contract between the Creditor and you as a data subject, the period of processing and storage of your personal data is the term of the contract and 5 years from the termination of your obligations to the Creditor under the contract. The period of processing and storage of your personal data after the creation of the Negative Information corresponds to the term of the contract and 5 years from the termination of your obligations to the Creditor under the contract.

The period of processing and storage of your personal data in the Register is the term of the contract and 5 years from the termination of your obligations to the Creditor under the contract. Your personal data will be then placed under the pre-archiving care in accordance with generally binding legal regulations.

NBCB processes your personal data through a processor, CRIF – Slovak Credit Bureau, s.r.o., with its registered office at Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09, Bratislava.

Another processor of NBCB is CRIF S.p.A. with its registered office at Via M. Fantin 1-3, 40131 Bologna, Italy.

Your personal data processed in the NBCIR and the Register are not disclosed or transferred to third countries.

B. Information related to the exercise of your rights under GDPR

The GDPR generally grants you as a data subject a number of rights, including, in particular, the right of access to personal data, the right to rectification of personal data, the right to erasure of personal data (the right “to forget”), the right to restriction of personal data processing, the notification obligation regarding rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of personal data processing, the right to personal data portability, the right to object to personal data processing, the right not to be subject to automated individual decision-making, including profiling, and others.

However, not all the rights granted to you as a data subject by the GDPR can be exercised with respect to processing operations performed with your personal data by NBCB as the controller. You have the right to obtain from NBCB as the controller the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning you without undue delay. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, you also have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by means of providing a supplementary statement.

III. Right to erasure of personal data (“right to be forgotten”)

- 1) You have the right to obtain from NBCB as the controller the erasure of personal data concerning you without undue delay and NBCB shall have the obligation to erase your personal data without undue delay where one of the grounds below applies:

- 2) Please note that you have the right to withdraw consent to the processing of personal data only for those processing operations that are carried out on the basis of your consent pursuant to Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR and not for those processing operations that are carried out by NBCB pursuant to Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR (compliance with a legal obligation; i.e. processing of your personal data in the Register).
- 3) Please note that you have the right to attain from NBCB, as the controller, the erasure of personal data relating to your person only for those processing operations for which you have successfully objected to the processing and which are carried out on the basis of a legitimate interest pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (i.e. only in the case of the existence of Negative Information) and not for those processing operations carried out by NBCB on any other legal basis. For more information on the right to object to the processing of your personal data, please see “Right to object to the processing of personal data” (section VII. below).

IV. Right to the restriction of personal data processing

- 1) You have the right to have NBCB, as the controller, restrict the processing of your personal data in one of the following cases:
 - a) you as a data subject contest the accuracy of your personal data, for a period enabling NBCB to verify the accuracy of your personal data; NBCB will verify the accuracy of your personal data primarily with the source from which they were obtained, i.e. with the relevant bank to which you provided your data in connection with a loan agreement or a loan agreement application;
 - b) the processing of your personal data is unlawful and as a data subject you oppose the erasure of your personal data and request the restriction of their use instead;
 - c) NBCB as the controller no longer needs your personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are required by you as a data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims,
 - d) as a data subject you have objected to processing, in case of those processing operations that are carried out on the basis of a legitimate interest pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR, and this until it is verified that there are no legitimate grounds for processing prevail
- 2) Please note that you have the right to attain from NBCB, as the controller, the restriction of processing of personal data relating to your person only for those processing operations for which you have objected to the processing and which are carried out on the basis of a legitimate interest pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (i.e. only in the case of the existence of Negative Information) and not for those processing operations carried out by NBCB on any other legal basis. For more information on the right to object to the processing of your personal data, please see "Right to object to the processing of personal data" (section VII. below).

- 3) If the processing of your personal data pursuant to paragraph 1 is restricted, such personal data, with the exception of storage, shall be subsequently processed only with your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person, or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or its Member State.
- 4) If you as a data subject have obtained restriction of processing pursuant to paragraph 1, you will be informed by the controller before the restriction of processing is lifted.

V. Notification obligation regarding rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of personal data processing

NBCB as the controller shall notify any recipient to whom your personal data have been disclosed of any rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing carried out pursuant to Article 16, Article 17(1) and Article 18 of the GDPR, unless this proves impossible or would involve a disproportionate effort. NBCB will inform you of these recipients at your request.

VI. Right to personal data portability

With respect to your personal data processing, GDPR grants you the right to transmit your personal data to another controller. However, you can only exercise this right in relation to those processing operations that are carried out on the basis of your consent pursuant to Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR.

You cannot exercise the right to the portability of your personal data for those processing operations that are carried out under a legal obligation pursuant Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR or a legitimate interest on the basis of Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR.

VII. Right to object to the processing of personal data

Pursuant to Article 21 of the GDPR, you, as a data subject, have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning you where it is carried out on the basis of Article 6(1)(e) of the GDPR (processing in the public interest) or Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (processing on the basis of a legitimate interest of the controller or of a third party). NBCB does not process your personal data for direct marketing purposes and does not carry out profiling of data subjects.

You can only exercise this right for those processing operations that are based on a legal basis of legitimate interest pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR (i.e. only in the case of the existence of Negative Information).

VIII. Automated individual decision-making, including profiling

The data subject generally has the right, pursuant to Article 22 of the GDPR, not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning them or similarly significantly affects them.

Please note that NBCB makes no decisions or profiling regarding you pursuant to the previous paragraph and in no way decides on approval your loan application to the Creditors. For this reason, GDPR does not allow you to exercise the above right against NBCB. Nevertheless, you can exercise this right against the Creditor as the source of your personal data in the NBCIR and the Register, which decides on your loan agreement application and carries out your profiling.

IX. Communication of a personal data breach to the data subject

- 1) In the event of a breach of your personal data that is likely to result in a high risk to your rights and freedoms, NBCB as the controller shall communicate the breach of your personal data to you without undue delay.
- 2) The communication referred to in paragraph 1 shall not be required if any of the following conditions are met:
 - a) the controller has implemented appropriate technical and organisational protection measures, and those measures were applied to the personal data affected by the personal data breach, in particular those that render the personal data unintelligible to any person who is not authorised to access it, such as encryption;
 - b) the controller has taken subsequent measures which ensure that the high risk to the rights and freedoms of data subjects referred to in paragraph 1 is no longer likely to materialise;
 - c) it would involve disproportionate effort. In such a case, there shall instead be a public communication or similar measure whereby the data subjects are informed in an equally effective manner.

C. Your request handling procedure

As a data subject, you also have the right to exercise the above rights through a request addressed to NBCB as the controller. In accordance with applicable legislation, your request will be addressed within one month. That period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. NBCB as the controller shall inform you of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for missing the base period.

NBCB strives to comply with all requests, but exceptionally there may be a situation where your request cannot be complied with. Not complying with a request for legitimate reasons is, however, only a last resort. If the request is unclear or incomplete, NBCB will contact you for clarification or additional information. Exceptionally, NBCB may have doubts concerning your identity. In this case, you will be subsequently asked to provide additional information to remove such doubts.

Your request will be complied with in the form in which it was made by you, or if you indicate in the request another form of complying with your request, it will be complied with in such a form. For example, if you send a request to NBCB by post, NBCB will also address the processed request to you by post. However, if you indicate in such a request that you wish us to reply to you by e-mail, NBCB will process your request signed by a qualified electronic signature by electronic means, subject to the conditions set out below. However, where NBCB has reasonable doubts concerning your identity that will not be subsequently removed, it may process your request by sending a reply by registered mail to your last permanent address.

NBCB provides you with several options to make a request in order to exercise your rights. You can use the prepared request forms to create a request. All you have to do is provide your personal data so that we can identify you and then send us the request. You can find the request form using the following link:

<http://www.nbcbsk.sk/wp-content/uploads/2021/06/%C5%BDiados%C5%A5-NBCB-kopia-osobnych-udajov.pdf>

You can deliver the completed request to NBCB:

- a) in person to the SBCB client centre located at: Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09 Bratislava,
- b) by post to the following address: Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09 Bratislava,
- c) by e-mail to: nbcbsk@nbcbsk.sk

If you decide to make your request in person at our client centre, please have a proof of identity with you to prove your identity. If you decide to make your request through another person, such a person must present a power of attorney certified by a notary. In order to ensure your maximum protection, we cannot disclose your personal data to anyone without sufficient proof of authority to act on your behalf.

If you send us your request by post, please sign it by hand.

Communication by electronic means is one of the potentially most dangerous ways for you to provide your personal data in relation to the exercise of your rights as a data subject in accordance with this information document. For this reason, we only fully accept requests made by this means that are signed by a qualified electronic signature. If you send us a request by e-mail that is not signed by a qualified electronic signature, it may take longer to process your request, since in order to protect your personal data it is necessary that NBCB has no reasonable doubts concerning your identity. For this reason, we may request additional information necessary to confirm your identity. Likewise, your request may not be fully complied with in this way, and in case of doubts concerning your identity, we may comply with your request by sending a copy of your personal data (or other relevant processing of your request) by registered mail to your last permanent address.

For more information regarding the processing of your personal data by NBCB in the NBCIR and the Register and the exercise of your rights as a data subject, please contact (i) the Client Centre located at: Mlynské Nivy 14, 821 09 Bratislava, (ii) by phone on +421 2 59207515, or (iii) by e-mail at: nbcbsk@nbcbsk.sk.
